Statement from Bluefish Vacation Rentals
April 2020 Stays

Updated April 3, 2020

The health and safety of our guests, homeowners, employees and larger Harbor Country community remains our top priority. In response to the rapidly evolving COVID-19 pandemic and the city of New Buffalo's proclamation that vacation lodging and short-term vacation rentals do not qualify as essential businesses during the Stay Home order, Bluefish Vacation Rentals will temporarily suspend all bookings until this order has been lifted beginning April 3, 2020.

We understand this is a difficult time for travelers and to ensure guests are able to book with confidence and peace of mind, we have adjusted our cancelation policies allowing any confirmed guests increased flexibility to reschedule the dates of their upcoming stay at the property they reserved through the end of the year. Should you be unable to reserve an alternate date in 2020, you will be able to apply your total booking cost to a reservation in 2021 for the same property booked. Should you have any questions or concerns regarding your upcoming stay, or are looking to make adjustments to a reservation at a Bluefish Vacation Rentals property, please do not hesitate to contact us via email at escape@bluefishvacations.com or call (269) 469-0468.

We appreciate your continued support and patience during this unprecedented time and look forward to making memories with you again soon!
